

Spiritry Tarot Reading

Celebrating Winter 2009

“Go lightly into the new place, as a brand new Being.”

Life Dancer

Burnout

Dreamer

We are the fullness of our selves today, and this years work is nearly done. Ready or not, it is time to move on. Be ready to go to the next place, stage, phase of your journey. Whatever is not ready to move with you, let it be. Be willing to drop that which must remain. Go lightly into the new place, as a brand new Being. Whatever should have happened, did. Dont mess with dead things this season, and be careful not to mix the old with the new. Every day is a new day; every event is a new experience, even if you think you've seen or done it before. Each encounter is a new relationship don't be fooled! Old tricks won't work with the new energy in 2010! Start from scratch, but redefine scratch for yourself. Acknowledge what was, and then move on. Don't linger or you might get trampled not by those who have answers, but by those who have questions. Seekers will be rewarded this season. Radical hope is the name of the game; absolute victory in the face of apparent defeat. Share your story: the good, the bad, and the ugly. Each part can be a blessing for someone who hears it. Know the beauty of your own rhythm and dance your way over the thresholds.

© 2009 by Ajike Kendrick for Spiritry

*Reading done with Daughters of the Moon Tarot by Ffiona Morgan www.daughtersofthemoon.com